TRAMP INSULTS A LONE WOMAN

Heaped Curses, Oaths and Abuse upon Mrs. Gilbert
Meredith this Forenoon

WAS CAUGHT STEALING

When Made to Give up Property
Becomes Insulting—Husband
Administers a Trouncing

Gilbert Meredith and wife, living at the corner of Ninth and Jackson streets, had an exciting experience with a tramp today, who first made a request for something to eat.

It was about ten o'clock this forenoon when the fellow approached the Meredith house. Mrs. Meredith was alone at the time and she noted that when the fellow turned to leave the premises he picked up two brushes from a stand and put them in his pocket. She ran out of the house and called after him. Reluctantly he gave up the stolen property and in doing so gave vent to a series of curses and oaths. Mrs. Meredith ran into the house fearing the fellow would do her bodily harm. She apprised her husband, who is employed as bookkeeper at the Wilson & Warfield table factory by phone, and immediately he set out to locate the fellow. After a search of several streets in the north part of the city he ran across a fellow answering the description of the man who had insulted his wife, near the Presbyterian church. He was at the back door of a house on Seventh street, and as Meredith approached him he wheeled and started to run. Meredith caught up with him, but he showed fight when he started to take hold of him. Now Gilbert has not been enjoying the best of health for some time, yet he immediately brought into play enough strength and agility to have his name stricken off a lodge sick list, if he was drawing any benefits, for he administered a good trouncing to the tramp. The fellow was literally beaten into submission and when the irate husband got through with him he was in a condition to "eat out of the hand."

Meredith hailed Ralph Mattox, who happened along in a meat delivery wagon and the fellow was loaded into this. When he was brought before Mrs. Meredith she declared that he was the offender. Again he denied that he had done any wrong and began to use language of a most abusive nature when Meredith gave him the second installment of a jiu jitsu movement he learned by mail. After being declared hors de combat for the second time it was an easy matter for Meredith to peacefully lead the fellow to the county jail where he was incarcerated.

This is the second experience Meredith has had with a tramp within the past two years, and in each instance he landed his man in jail without the assistance of an officer. Two years ago a burglar was discovered about his premises and single handed and unarmed he went out into the yard and tackled the prowler. After a struggle and fistie encounter in which he bested his antagonist, he led the fellow off to jail.

CONSIDERING MEANS TO ENTERTAIN CONVENTION

The people of Shelbyville are discussing the problem of housing and feeding the large crowd which will be in attendance at the Sixth district congressional convention on April 9th. As there are six candidates it is natural that all will bring large delegations from their respective counties. Wayne will go in a special train.

The Shelbyville Republican says: "A word of warning is given to the eating houses to lay in a supply, as these delegations get hungry when at a convention, and this city cannot afford to send them away hungry, as did Cambridge City on January 14th."

WAS ABLE TO ACCOMPANY HER HUSBAND HOME TODAY

Mrs. Ora Logan who was Very Ill for Many Months
Recovering

Mrs. Ora Logan, who was taken to an Indianapolis sanitarium several weeks ago to undergo an operation, and who has been critically ill, lying in a precarious condition for many weeks, was able to accompany her husband to her home in Noble township today.

Mrs. Logan had one of the most difficult cases on record in the county and at times all hopes were given up, but she is now much improved and her many friends will be glad to know that she is now on the road to rapid recovery.

TAX DODGERS ARE DEFAULTERS

Declared State Tax Commissioner Wingate at District Meeting here Today

LAW AMPLE TO COLLECT

Fault Lies in the People and Second in Officials who Neglect Their Duty

John C. Wingate, State Tax Commissioner, addressed an open meeting of the assessors of this county at the assembly room at the court house this afternoon. The meeting was not as well attended as the speaker desired having as he said, a message for the taxpayers as well as the assessors of the Sixth district.

Mr. Wingate spoke of the legitimate improvements in the forms of school facilities and road improvements and then turned the attention of his hearers to the manner in which taxes fail to reach the public treasury. He referred to the failure in the matter of listing property and also the failure to collect the assessment.

The law is ample to collect all the taxes but it is not all collected. Mr. Wingate appraised the present tax law as being sufficient and said it was not a new tax law but we needed a new State tax board.

"The taxes according to the law of the State had already attached to the property of the county before the levy was made. It is a reservation of the State and belongs to the State, so that every man who does not pay his taxes is in a sense a defaulter."

"It is the duty of the newspapers and other public organs to educate the people in the matter of paying taxes," he declared in closing.

SAYS HE LOST IN A GAME OF CARDS

Arlington Man has two Rushville
Men Indicted—Will have
Trial Monday

Henry Joiner, formerly a section foreman on the I. & O. traction line, living at Arlington, has filed affidavits against Fred Olevenger and James Brooks, claiming they "beat" him out of twenty-five cents in a game of cards recently. The case will be heard before Squire Jackson next Monday morning. A number of witnesses have been summoned on the case.

Green Thompson, a prominent citizen of near Moscow, who was operated on yesterday, is not expected to live.

P. O. INSPECTOR IMPOSES FINE

Young Man Obligated to Fork
Over Ten Dollars for Violating
Postal Laws

SENT WRITING IN MAILS

In a Fourth Class Package—A
Commonly Violated Statute—
Offender Plead Ignorance

Postoffice Inspector W. T. Fletcher, out of the Indianapolis offices, was here yesterday on official business. Among other things he took up a case that had been called to the attention of the postal authorities which had to do with a young man in this city who violated a law—commonly violated—that of sending writing material in a package marked merchandise.

The young fellow, who is an employee of one of the furniture factories, has been saving tobacco tags for an entire year. A few weeks ago he sent the tags to the premium depot in Detroit and inserted a slip of paper in the package stating the premium he desired. He was ignorant of the fact that he was violating one of the postal laws which specifies that no information whatever can be sent in mail other than first class. He appeared before the inspector last night, admitted he was guilty as charged, but pleaded ignorance. The inspector declared he really felt sorry for the poor fellow, but there was only one thing to do when one is found guilty of such an offense—impose a fine of ten dollars, which he reluctantly was obliged to do. Mr. Fletcher says that he collects from one fifty to one hundred dollars for this one offense every month. Last year, he says the department collected fines amounting to over fifty thousand dollars. A peculiar fact in this connection is that the opticians violate this statute oftener than any other class of people, when they send glasses to be repaired.

GRAND LECTURER OF MASONIC ORDER

Of Indiana, Speaks in Big Terms of the Late Charles
Coleman

J. H. Williams, Grand Lecturer of Free Masons, of Indiana, in speaking last evening of Charles Coleman, who was murdered by Leslie Bundrant said: "Coleman was such a man that nothing has been said of him by those who knew him, but what was good. Aside from being a member of the church, prompt in attendance, industrious, thrifty, honest, and generally trustworthy, he was a member of the local lodge of colored Free Masons. During life he was one of the most faithful members of that order, and more than worthy of the trust his brethren imposed in him. He at one time held the office of Senior Steward in the local lodge."

BY THE WAYSIDE

George Washington chose February 22d for his annual birthday celebration, and Miss Nancy Hogsett, of the now famous "Watson Beauty Bunch," not to be outdone has chosen March 22d and tomorrow will celebrate the twenty-first and FINAL birthday anniversary. (N. B. A girl never has any birthdays after her twenty-first.) Elaborate plans are said to have been made for the event.

A. L. Gary, who is substituting for Supt. Headlee, conducted a teachers' examination today.

FIERY ENERGY IN HIS ORATORY

George R. Stuart, a Typical Southerner, Comes for Meeting Sunday

IS HIGHLY COMMENDED

Brooklyn Pastor Says in Survey of Two Continents he Never Met His Equal

George R. Stuart, who is to address the Men's Big Meeting Sunday afternoon, is one of the most unique and satisfactory platform speakers of our times. There never was a crowd he could not hold, and holding helps. He talks of vital things in which all people are interested. He has the flowing speech and fiery energy characteristic of southern oratory at its best. He is witty, but never vulgar or even coarse.

S. Parks Cadman, pastor of the Central Congregational church in Brooklyn says of him: "George R. Stuart is the best and most accomplished lecturer and preacher of his order in the United States of America. In a wide survey on two continents I have never met his equal."

When such men as Dr. Cadman speak thus of him it is safe to say he is the best lecturer that ever appeared before the citizens of Rushville.

The male chorus has a number of excellent selections and the Harrison orchestra will furnish the music, including a triple tongued cornet duet by Harrison and Lucas which will be worth hearing.

This is the last men's meeting and no man in this city or county should fail to hear this man Sunday afternoon at the Main Street Christian church at 2:30 o'clock.

OLD PHOTOGRAPH CIVIL WAR TIMES

Taken of Rush County Boys in Winter Quarters at Camp
Hicks

One of the most interesting pictures which has recently been added to the court house art gallery, is a photograph of the Sixteenth Indiana Volunteer regiment in command of Col. P. A. Hackleman, in winter quarters at Camp Hicks, Maryland, taken in February, 1862.

The photograph shows the quarters of the Rush county company and some of the soldier on guard. Col. Hackleman who afterwards became a general is easily recognized on a horse in front of headquarters.

Mr. Smith also has a large photo added to the gallery which was sent to him by Gov. Charles H. Hughes, of New York. Also a crayon portrait of ex-Governor W. T. Durbin.

It is the intention of Mr. Smith to secure a photo of each governor in the United States. The county council will have the art gallery frescoed this spring and a museum will also be added.

GREENFIELD REDMEN HAD BIG TIME AND BIG EAT

The Wenonah Tribe of Red Men, of Greenfield, had a heap big time last Thursday, when they celebrated their anniversary and at the same time adopted a class of fifty pale faces. Many big chiefs, warriors and braves from surrounding towns were in attendance, besides two visiting teams from Indianapolis. Corn and venison in plenty were dispensed. All in all, it was a big class, a big gathering, a big time and a big eat.

FAMOUS "JOHN WARD" HAS ARRIVED HERE

Well Known Pacer Shipped by Express from the Atlantic Coast

The pacer "John Ward" was received yesterday by Harrie Jones, from Boston, Mass., arriving by express over the Pennsylvania. This horse raced through the Grand circuit as a three-year-old in 1906, and went several miles in his races around 2:10, being driven by John Dickerson. Last year he was not raced, it being decided by his owner to carry him over until five year old, but at Readville he was driven a trial mile in 2:05½, last half in 1:02. He will be named in all the big stakes, and given a low record, and possibly be placed in the stud here in 1909. He was sired by the great colt sire Bengon 2:06½ dam Ambrette, 2:25 (died when 5 year old) by Baron Rogers 2:09½, second dam Kaloo (dam of Vidal 2:16½, Spera 2:17½, Easternmorn, 2:20½ and Ambrette (3) 2:25) by Princeton 2:19½, third dam Mamie Belle, (dam of Harland Grattan 2:13½, Javotte, 2:26½, Grattan 2d, 2:39½ and Axoyone, 12:21½, sire of Axoyel, 2:06½) by Robert McGregor, 2:17½.

EASTERN STARS SHINE BRIGHTLY

In the Reception and Banquet
Given at Masonic Temple
Last Night

EARL PAYNE TOASTMASTER

Several Respond with Brief Talks
Including One by the State
Grand Matron

One of the brightest social events among the fraternal orders was the reception and banquet given by Martha Poe Chapter of the local Eastern Star last evening, in honor of Grand Matron, Mrs. Nelle L. Goodbar, of Crawfordsville.

The program began at 4:30 in the evening with the reception which lasted until 6:45 o'clock. This was followed by an elaborate banquet, at which several excellent toasts were given. Earl Payne was toastmaster and gave an excellent speech of welcome, which was followed by Grand Matron Mrs. Goodbar, who spoke on "Our Grand Chapter." Nettie Ransford gave an interesting toast on "Our O. E. S.," Anna C. Banes spoke on "Our Order," and William M. McBride gave a toast on "Fraternity."

The entire program was very interesting and was enjoyed by every member present. Grand Matron Mrs. Goodbar spoke very highly of the order as she found it in this city.

Following the banquet the degree work was given to a number of candidates. The music was furnished by the Harrison orchestra which rendered a number of excellent selections.

A large number of guests from Connersville, Shelbyville, Morristown, Metamora and other towns were present.

THE WEATHER

Fair and warmer tonight. Sunday increasing cloudiness with probably showers; cooler in west portion Sunday.

James Geraghty, Jr., of Indianapolis, Lawrence Geraghty, Jr., of New Albany and Anthony Geraghty, of Elkhart, were called last night to the bedside of their mother, Mrs. James Geraghty, Sr., who lies critically ill at her home in West Second street. Mrs. Geraghty, of Elkhart, accompanied her husband here.

LOCAL TEAM WON LAST VICTORY

In Basket Ball Game with Connersville Last Night
at That City

LARGE CROWD PRESENT

About Eighty Attended From here to see Last Game of the Season

One of the best basket ball games of the season was played last evening by the local boys at Connersville, in which the local team was victorious in a score of 23 to 24.

A special car was chartered from the I. & O. traction company, and seventy-five or eighty went from this city to see the game, which was the last of the season, including most of the city school teachers. A large number of Connersville people were also present and the game was played before a large audience of spectators.

The room in which the game was played had large cross sills in the ceiling, which bothered the local boys quite a little, but they did good team work and won the game regardless of this.

There were really no feature plays in the game, as all played well on both sides. The first half of the game ended in a hard won score of 14 to 12, in favor of Connersville, and it looked as though the Rushville team was doomed to defeat, but in the beginning of the second half they slowly began to gain on the Connersville boys and when the game closed, they had won the victory which they had so earnestly hoped for.

This was the last game of the season and the local boys are proud to come off the field carrying the banner of victory.

The score in the other game between these two teams was 14 to 16 in favor of Connersville.

FAMOUS LAND MARK WILL NOT BE CHANGED

Supreme Court Comes to Rescue of Riley's "Ole Swimmin' Hole" in Hancock County

The attempt to convert "the old swimmin' hole," made famous in Riley's poem, into a prosaic ditch has failed, temporarily, at least. The judgment dismissing a petition for the improvement of Brandywine creek in Hancock county, by converting it into a public ditch at the point where it runs through Greenfield has been affirmed by the Supreme court. The petition counted on a declared necessity for the drainage of country property along the creek but the only petitioners who did not abandon the action own property lying wholly within the city limits, and the court says that the city has exclusive jurisdiction of the drainage of its own territory, except when a drain is constructed for the benefit of surrounding farms.

The "Old Swimmin' Hole" celebrated in James Whitcomb Riley's poem, lies in the part of the creek sought to be ditched.

REWARDED PROFESSIONAL LICENSE BY STATE BOARD

Prof. W. A. Stockinger, of the city schools, has just received a professional State license, by the State Board of Education. This is not given to many teachers. Only about ten in the State received these licenses this year. Mr. Stockinger was one of those who was rewarded for his untiring efforts in study.

BOGUS WIRELESS SHARES
Reputed Agents For Marconi Company Said to Have Cleaned Up
About $5,000 Last June.

Hearing Nothing From Their Stock,
Investors Investigate, With Saddening Results.

Elkhart, Ind., March 21.—It is estimated that at least $5,000 of Elkhart money was invested in stock offered by alleged agents of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph company when the "agents" were here last June. They called themselves Monroe & Monroe, with New York city offices, and after much advertising gave free demonstrations of the marvels of wireless telegraphy in the opera house, continuing the exhibitions several days.

Investors who were put off from time to time by plausible letters from the New York offices finally wrote to the genuine Marconi company and received replies to the effect that Monroe & Monroe were never authorized to do business for the legitimate company. Other investors wrote to the New York police department and have just received answers to the effect that Monroe & Monroe decamped in January and that their office furnishings and other abandoned effects are in the hands of the police department. The shares were sold at $10 each, and the local sales ran from $50 to $150 and upward.

ALLEGED PAVING TRUST
Anderson Officials to Investigate Supposed Brick-Makers' Combine.

Anderson, Ind., March 21.—Incidental to the paving of several streets in the residence part of this city, Mayor Terhune and the board of public works will attack an alleged brick-paving trust that they think exists in Indiana and Ohio. Mayor Terhune is of the opinion that it would be money saved to go into the courts to investigate alleged pools and combinations of manufacturers or jobbers of brick for street paving. In order to provide this city with information on the alleged paving brick trust, City Engineer M. H. Downey of this city will investigate the prices quoted to other cities in Indiana and in Ohio.

This city has paved five miles of streets in the last six years and the prices of brick have been deemed exorbitant. Two more miles of streets may be paved this summer.

Coal Oil Stove Exploded.
Indianapolis, March 21.—A fire loss of more than $10,000 was caused at White City, the amusement park east of Broad Ripple, yesterday afternoon, when a coal oil stove exploded in the office of the skating rink. The rink and two other buildings were destroyed, but the remainder of the park was saved by a strong wind that carried the sparks eastward and away from the buildings. The manager of the park says the loss will be immediately repaired.

Wealth in Frogs.
Morocco, Ind., March 21.—Many frogs are caught in the Kankakee marshes during the winter months, beginning about the first of November and continuing through March. One man is credited with having caught 124,000 dozen in a single season, which were shipped to Chicago and sold at a handsome profit. It is not an unusual occurrence for a man to go out and catch enough frogs in a single day to net him from $16 to $20.

A Bad Combination.
Evansville, Ind., March 21.—John and Joseph Watten, brothers, ten and eleven years old respectively, who were arrested and confessed to the police that they had entered a dozen or more houses in the city during the last month and stolen articles, were bound over to the juvenile court. They said they had been reading dime novels, and, after seeing "Raffles," had decided to go into the hold-up business.

Charged With Embezzlement.
Hammond, Ind., March 21.—Stanley Sulentic of Gary, a politician, steamship agent, and a man to whom the foreigners in that city turned for consultation and advice, was arrested on a charge of embezzling $4,000. Sulentic is alleged to have obtained sums of money from his clients, all foreigners, and instead of sending it to the old country, put it in his own pocket.

Defendant Was Released.
Goshen, Ind., March 21.—The state failed in the prosecution of George S. Cobb, former trustee of Elkhart township, accused of embezzling funds, and the jury was instructed to find for the defendant, who was released.

He Asserts His Innocence.
Princeton, Ind., March 21.—Harry Wheeler, coal miner, of this city, is under arrest accused of bigamy. He asserts his innocence. He is the father of several children, and the family is well thought of.

COUNTY NEWS
Manilla.
Mrs. J. L. Smith is seriously ill. George F. Mull, of Indianapolis, was in town Thursday.
Joseph Taylor, of Lafayette, is here at the bedside of his brother, O. M. Taylor.
Mrs. Elizabeth Craig is reported some better.
Delman Plummer, the Knightstown poultry man, was in town, Thursday night.
The linen man from Connersville made his annual St. Patrick's day visit to Manilla.
Friday gave us a hint that winter had not gone for good.
Cash Pattison is having a tubular well driven.
Mrs. Prudence Roadrick is very ill at her home in Indianapolis. Mesdames Shook and Parish, her nieces, of this place are at her bedside.
W. O. Taylor, of Indianapolis, is at the bedside of his father.
Miss Mary English is quite sick.
Charles Hall was in town this week, doctoring sick fruit trees.
The verdict against Wm. Shepherd in the Shelby circuit court was something of a surprise to many of our citizens. Many thought he would receive a term in State prison, but it seems as if after modifying the charge he got the limit. If the sentence is carried out he will be quite an expense to Shelby county. Whether or not a new trial will be asked for we are not informed.
C. M. Taylor's condition still remains very critical. He seems to be losing his hold on life. His mother and two brothers are at his bedside and his son who, is located in Alabama, is on his way. Mrs. Hester, a daughter, who lives in Texas is expected Saturday. The sad affair has cast a gloom over the entire town and much sympathy is shown to the stricken family.
The physicians in charge offer very little encouragement towards his recovery. The sad affair is much to be regretted as Mr. Taylor has been one of our leading citizens in business, social and religious circles, being a prominent member of the Methodist church and a leader in the Sunday school for many years.

CUT IN HALF
Seven of the Fifteen Pension Agencies Have Been Abolished.
Washington, March 20.—After several hours of spirited discussion over the proposition to abolish seven of the fifteen United States pension agencies and consolidate pension disbursements in Washington, the house passed the pension appropriation bill, carrying $150,869,000, the largest sum ever authorized by that measure. The house by a vote of 86 to 139 stood by the committee on appropriations and left unchanged its recommendations for one general agency.
In the course of the debate, Mr. Fitzgerald of New York accused the president of using federal patronage to further the interests of Secretary Taft for the presidency. Early in the day the president was attacked by Messrs. Harrison of New York and Mr. Williams of Mississippi for having, as they stated, usurped constitutional authority in making laws for the Panama canal zone by executive order.
Continuing his speech begun in the senate last Tuesday, Senator La Follette of Wisconsin devoted considerable time to discussing a proposition for the physical valuation of railroads. The blind senator from Oklahoma, Mr. Gore, attempted to draw Mr. La Follette into a criticism of the actions of the president and Secretary Cortelyou in connection with the recent financial disturbance, but failed, the Wisconsin senator expressing the opinion that the president had acted in a way which he believed at the time to be in the best interest of the country.
The senate devoted part of the day to the consideration of the omnibus claims bill and then referred it back to committee for further consideration.

CHILDREN TRAMPLED
The Exit Was Found Closed During Fire Drill and Panic Followed.
Kattowitz, Prussian Silesia, March 20.—During a fire drill in the city school yesterday afternoon there was a stampede among the children which resulted in ten of the little ones being trampled by their comrades until they were unconscious. No lives were lost. The signal for the entire drill was given, but one of the exit doors was inadvertently left closed. With the warning bell the children in the Sixth class started for this door. They found it shut and their further progress barred. The children behind did not know what was the matter and pressed so fiercely upon those ahead of them that their comrades against the door were trampled under foot. Passersby heard the cries of the children and managed to get the door open and put an end to the panic.

What Ails You?
Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?
If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, rapid liver with indigestion. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.
The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following natural American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.
The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. in Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on Postal Card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

Blow in Face Proved Fatal.
Philadelphia, March 20.—A verdict of death from hemorrhage of the brain following a blow on the face was found by a coroner's jury which investigated the death of Wassilly Ziemba, a youth who received fatal injuries in a boxing bout at a local theater Tuesday night. Charles Wolf, known as "Young Nelson," who struck the blow, was held in bail charged with homicide. All others who were arrested in connection with the case were discharged from custody.

Several Are Implicated.
San Juan, Porto Rico, March 20.—The federal grand jury has returned an indictment of manslaughter against Alexander Dickson, the carpenter of the United States collier Aberenda, who on February 20 killed Chief Officer Weichert of the vessel, in this port. Other arrests will follow, for several of the crew of the Aberenda are said to be implicated.

A Double Florida Lynching.
Perry, Fla., March 20.—A mob of armed citizens surrounded the county jail and took Richard Smith and Will McMullen, negroes, both charged with murder, from the jail, carried them to a secluded spot on the outskirts of the town, and, after binding them to stakes, riddled their bodies with bullets.

THE LAWYER'S OPINION.

A Kansas City corporation had a controversy with a firm doing business in an Eastern city, and having received a letter threatening suit took it to their attorney for consultation.

The lawyer, a plain, blunt spoken man, looking at the sheet of paper on which the letter was written, said:

"Why do you do business with third rate people, you ought to know that in so doing you are inviting trouble."

"But," answered the client, "the firm is not third rate; they are quoted as being worth a million dollars."

"I don't care how they are rated," replied the lawyer, "they may have ten million dollars and I would still say they are third rate in feeling, character, and dealings, because their third rate stationery tells on them. Look at it! cheap paper, dauby printing. No business house of any self-respect would use it. Better settle and be done with them and hereafter don't do business with such cheap people."

The above is no fairy tale but an actual occurrence, and we could furnish the name of the parties to the transaction. We cite it only for the purpose of illustrating that poor printing, be it catalogue, booklet, folder or office stationery is a positive detriment to any business.

Here's Where We "Butt" In.

We are merchants—we sell printing the same as the clothier sells clothes, and the grocer sells groceries.

We can't sell shoddy printing for the same reason that the high grade grocery can't mix his sugar with sand or sell sloe leaves for tea.

And if we didn't sell the best printing that is made we wouldn't expect to rank commercially with leading firms in other lines of trade in Rushville.

It's not only a matter of principle but of good business policy and doing the best work is our way of demonstrating it.

There are printers in this city who are spoken of as the cheapest place in town, "but for goodness sake don't give them any work you want done nicely."

We prefer to have it said, "go to the Daily Republican if you want the best work—they charge a little more, but you can always depend on a bang up good job."

We employ no solicitors, but on request by telephone or post Mr. Feudner will call upon you and arrange the details of such work as you may desire.

SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

This Measure Finds Clear Sailing
In the Senate on Final Vote.

PASSED WITHOUT DIVISION

Under an Amendment to the Bill
Slower Vessels Will Come In For
Share of Uncle Sam's Bounty.

During Discussion of This Measure a Strong Plea Was Made For an Auxiliary Navy.

Washington, March 21.—Nearly the entire session of the senate was consumed by the consideration and final vote on the ship subsidy bill, which was passed without a division of the senate being called for. A bill was also passed increasing the salaries of men employed in the life-saving service.

The ship subsidy bill pays to sixteen-knot vessels plying between this country and South America, the Philippines, Japan, China and Australasia, $4 per mile, the amount awarded by the act of 1891 to vessels of twenty knots only. The bill was amended in the senate so that twelve-knot vessels will receive $2 per mile, which is the allowance under existing law to sixteen-knot vessels. Amendments were also adopted providing that if two or more lines of steamships ply from Atlantic ports to South America under the provisions of the bill, one line shall stop at tow ports south of Cape Charles, and stipulating that no more shall be paid for subsidies than is received from ship service by the government.

During the consideration of the measure Mr. Hale made a spirited plea for an auxiliary navy, declaring that without auxiliaries our navy is dependent upon foreign countries, and that in case of war we should be helpless.

Found a Ready Defender.

More criticism of President Roosevelt was indulged in in the house of representatives, when he was roundly denounced by Mr. Hardwick of Georgia, for failing to send to congress all information regarding corporations which had come into his possession. The president, however, found a ready and vigorous defender in Mr. Mann of Illinois, who asserted that the president had acted with the utmost good faith in sending to congress all the information that had come to him. The discussion arose over a resolution by Mr. Hardwick to require the president to supply the house with all data so far obtained by the bureau of corporations. The resolution was tabled, 148 to 115.

The fortifications appropriation bill was taken up and in the course of debate upon it, Mr. Bartlett of Georgia refuted the claims of the Republicans to the credit for authorship of the railroad rate or Sherman anti-trust laws. The bill was sidetracked for general debate.

Some Army Promotions.

Washington, March 21.—Secretary Taft announces that Brigadier General Charles B. Ball, in charge of the general staff college at Leavenworth, Kan., will be promoted to the grade of major general on March 27, on the retirement of Major General A. W. Greely, and that Colonel John B. Kerr, commanding the Twelfth cavalry at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., will be appointed a brigadier general, vice General Davis, promoted. General Ball is from Maine and served as a lieutenant in the Twenty-fifth and Thirtieth Maine infantry regiments during the civil war. He will retire for age April 29 next.

Climax of Year's Work.

Mobile, Ala., March 21.—L. E. Gray, a young white man, was arrested on a charge of counterfeiting. Several days ago local banks reported that counterfeit $10 bills of the "Buffalo" series had been detected in the deposits of the day. Federal secret service officers were called to the city immediately and several people placed under surveillance. Gray has been employed as special writer for a local paper. The federal officials say the arrest is the climax of one year's work by secret service officers. Other arrests are expected.

Fell Under the Wheels.

Evansville, Ind., March 20.—While stealing a ride on an Illinois Central railroad train in this city, John Schippmann, molder, thirty-five years old, fell under the wheels and was killed.

THE POWER OF THE PRESS

Exemplification of This Force Is

In German Reichstag.

With the Reporters on Strike Program of Parliamentary Debate
Has Been Changed.

Berlin, March 21.—The newspapers of Berlin and the provinces have unanimously decided not to print a word of the reichstag debates until adequate retraction is offered for the insulting expression of "swine" addressed to the reporters' gallery Thursday by Herr Groeber, leader of the Center party, because jeers had come from this division at a statement used by a member to the effect that negroes also had immortal souls.

The official news agencies are compelled, according to their agreements, to take down the declarations of the ministers stenographically. These, however, are merely supplied to the various ministries and officers. The parliamentary reporters of the newspapers abstained altogether from attending the reichstag yesterday, and as a result no fewer than twelve deputies who had intended to speak on the colonial budget withdrew their names from the president's list and refused to address the house at a time when their remarks would not be given publicity. The resolution adopted by the reporters in which they demand apology and fullest retraction for the insult offered them, will be presented to the leaders of every party in the reichstag in order to bring influence to bear to bring about a settlement of the incident.

OUTLOOK IS HOPEFUL

This Is What Bradstreet Says of Trade Situation.

New York, March 21.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: Improvement in sentiment and in actual demand continues, but it proceeds under the checkrein of conservatism which limits buying to small lots of staple goods. Spring jobbing trade has apparently passed its zenith with a total trade larger perhaps than was expected some months ago, but smaller by far than any year ago. Fall trade is four to six weeks late in opening up. In industrial lines there is a good deal of irregularity. About 80,000 mill hands in New England have had wages reduced in the past ten days and production is only 65 to 75 per cent of the full possible output. The soft coal strike threatened for April 1 appears more remote owing to conciliatory talk. As regards the future, it might be said that while the outlook is hopeful, the prospects seem to indicate a fluctuating trade in forthcoming months, or at least until probable crop yields can be pretty well measured.

Had It Under Perfect Control.

Paris, March 21.—Henry Farman, the English aeronaut, eclipsed all previous records for aeroplane flying by making a circular flight with his machine of over two kilometers (a kilometer is about three-quarters of a mile). The machine mounted to a considerable height and Mr. Farman turned and swerved it with the greatest daring to show that the machine was under perfect control. The spectators gave the aeronaut an ovation when he landed.

Captain Lost in Small Boat.

St. George, Grenada, B. W. I., March 21.—The British cruiser Scylla has met with no success in her search for the missing boat containing the cruiser's captain, who it is now learned was not accompanied by any member of the crew. The captain put out to his ship on Wednesday night and is believed to have lost his bearings. The Scylla is continuing the search.

Stoessel's Imprisonment Begins.

St. Petersburg, March 21.—Lieutenant General Stoessel, whom a court-martial recently sentenced to death on charges of cowardice and treason in surrendering Port Arthur to the Japanese, but whose sentence was commuted by Emperor Nicholas to ten years' imprisonment, yesterday began serving his term in the St. Peter and St. Paul fortress.

Call for Sixth District Convention.

Pursuant to an order of the Republican District Committee, you are invited to meet in delegate convention, in the city of Shelbyville, on April 9, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for representative from this district to the congress of the United States.

The convention will assemble at 10:30 a. m., for the purpose of organization and the transaction of all other business except the nomination of the candidate for congress.

The convention will reconvene at 1 o'clock and proceed with the election of a candidate for congress.

The convention shall be composed of 116 delegates, apportioned among the several counties of the district on a basis of one delegate for every 200 votes, and for each additional fraction of more than 100 votes cast for Fred A. Sims for secretary of state at the November election, 1906, the several counties being entitled to the following representation, viz.: Decatur, 13; Fayette, 10; Franklin, 7; Hancock, 11; Henry, 17; Rush, 13; Shelby, 16; Union, 5; Wayne, 24.

Necessary to choice, 56. Tickets to the convention will be distributed by the district chairman to the various county chairmen for their respective counties.

The county committees of the several counties wherein delegates have not been chosen, will apportion to the different townships of their respective counties the representation to which they are entitled, and make the necessary arrangements for the selection of delegates accordingly, giving notice at least two weeks by publication in the Republican press of their counties of the time and place of meetings for the selection of said delegates.

RUSHVILLE, INDIANA, MARCH 21, 1908

The Democratic State Convention meets in Indianapolis next Wednesday and Thursday. The convention promises to be a large one as there are a great many active candidates for the nomination for governor to be presented. So far there is Ralston, Conn, Slack, Marshall, McCollough, Kuhn and probably Shively, as a dark horse, will go into the contest. The Rush county Democrats will present the name of Frank J. Hall, of this city, for the nomination for lieutenant governor. As usual, the Democrats are impressed with the idea that they have a good chance to carry Indiana.

If a Republican president and a Republican house of representatives is elected this fall the tariff will be revised at a special session of congress, to be called immediately after March 4th, 1909. There is no knowing what a Democratic president would do and if one did attempt to secure a revision of the tariff it would probably precipitate a deadlock between the Republican senate and the Democratic house which would prove most disastrous to the business of the country.

A great many papers over the State have been printing C. G. Conn's "Open Letter to Indiana Democrats." Mr. Conn, who is a Democratic candidate for governor believes in blowing his own horn. He is setting forth his ideas of government and how he would run the State of Indiana through the Democratic papers of the State. He is probably paying for it but as a business man he knows that advertising pays. Mr. Conn lives at Elkhart and is the most famous manufacturer of horns in the world. He not only blows his own horn, but he supplies horns for others to blow and every one of them has his trade mark on.

INDIANA POLITICS

BY ROBERT G. TUCKER

Indianapolis, March 21.—Reports received by John C. Billheimer, auditor of state, show that the interest on state funds during the month of February amounted to $2,706.87. Of this money, $69.23 went to the Indiana university fund, $243.14 to the Purdue university fund, and $101.15 to the Indiana state normal school fund. The remainder, $2,293.35, went to the general state fund. Under the public depositary law it is provided that any interest derived from the funds of state educational institutions shall be added to the fund from which it is derived. The February interest which has been distributed among the state educational institutions was derived from the funds of these institutions. The state funds and funds of state institutions are held by more than seventy banks of the state.

Chairman Jackson of the Democratic state committee has appointed a special committee consisting of B. F. Shively of South Bend, John W. Kern of Indianapolis, the four Democratic congressmen from Indiana, and the candidates for the nomination for governor, to prepare a platform to be submitted to the committee on resolutions next Wednesday night. Ex-Congressman Robert W. Miers, who will be chairman of the Democratic state convention, it is understood will not consume over an hour with his "keynote" speech and will not discuss the temperance question, preferring to leave that to the platform committee. Mr. Miers, it is said, will declare that the Republicans have been reckless in the expenditure of the state's money and have greatly increased the rate of taxation.

C. G. Conn believes he can command 75,000 more votes than any other Democratic candidate for governor, which would insure party success. He makes this estimate in an open letter directed to the Democratic editors of the state and the public generally. The two things to be considered by the convention, in his opinion, are the ability of the candidate and his ability to carry the election. Friends of Thomas Marshall, the Columbia City candidate for the nomination for governor, have taken fresh courage in the last few days. They feel that a deadlock is likely to result in the convention fixing its eyes on Marshall.

A large number of the nearly four thousand members of the Ancient-Accepted Scottish Rite of Indiana will attend the reunion and semi-annual convocation in this city next week, and incidentally many of the members will kill two birds with one stone. If the hours do not conflict they will attend both the Rite and the Democratic state convention, for some are candidates for nomination and others are working politicians.

At Washington next Wednesday the Republicans of the Second district will meet in convention and renominate John C. Chaney, who is now serving his second term in congress. His nomination will be made by acclamation, as he has no opposition. Congressman Chaney probably will be permanent chairman of the Republican state convention.

An Evansville Mystery.

Evansville, Ind., March 21.—Following a fight in his office in which Mrs. Nancy Davenport is said to have stabbed Mrs. Jennie Farmer in the breast, near the heart, Dr. Henry C. Jorgenson, a veterinary surgeon, was found dead in his rooms. Coroner Edward J. Lavaland held a postmortem on the remains of Dr. Jorgenson, which failed to show the manner of the man's death. Mrs. Davenport has been adjudged insane and will be sent to the insane asylum here at once. Mrs. Farmer is in a serious condition.

Friction Between Neighbors.

Valparaiso, March 21.—A dispatch received from Arica says that a detachment of Peruvian troops invaded Tarata, a Chilean town in the province of Taona and near the Peruvian frontier, in pursuit of smugglers. The Chilean police disarmed the invaders, but later fresh Peruvian troops arrived at Tarata and entered houses searching for arms. The governor of the province of Taona has now sent troops to Tarata, where there is much excitement over the incident.

Two Bankers Punished.

Marienburg, Prussia, March 21.—Rudolph Woelke, the banker who was involved in the failure of the Marienburg bank last fall, was found guilty by a jury of hypothecating the securities of customers and of other offenses and sentenced to ten years' loss of civil rights. His assistant, Julius Schneider, was also convicted and was sentenced to five years in jail.

Women Should Not Receive Same Education as Men.

By Professor RUDOLF TOMBO, Jr., of Columbia University.

THE great underlying fault of all American education is the INABILITY OF AMERICANS TO LOOK INTO THE FUTURE. You can see that fact in our schools and again in the higher education of the universities and colleges.

Now take, for instance, the education that a woman gets in America. Her courses at the various colleges are PRACTICALLY THE SAME as are those of the men who intend to enter professional life upon graduation. In other words, SHE IS EDUCATED FOR THE PRESENT and not for what she is meant for and will eventually be.

GOD'S PURPOSE WAS THAT A WOMAN SHOULD BE THE MOTHER OF CHILDREN AND BE ABLE TO RAISE THEM RIGHT, BUT YET WHAT SCHOOL TEACHES HER THAT ABILITY? NO, SHE GETS TRIGONOMETRY, GEOMETRY AND A FEW OTHER SCIENCES WHICH WILL NOT BENEFIT HER IN THE LEAST, AND HER PURPOSE IN LIFE IS FORGOTTEN.

The men who are studying for professions are the same. They are too easily affected by the GLAMOUR OF PRACTICE. They enter practice as quickly as they can successfully pass the entrance examinations, while they ought to continue to prepare themselves further in their chosen line.

As long ago as the thirteenth century a Chinaman named Ye-jin yang discovered a method of inducing the formation of pearls in the Chinese river mussels were gently opened, and small pellets, usually of clay, inserted. The mussels were then placed in about two feet or running water. At the end of two or three years they were again opened when it was often found that nacreous matter had been deposited on the pellets, forming pearls, millions of which are sold in China.

JIM FELTS MAKES PLEA FOR FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Jim Felts, formerly of this city, but now residing in Charlevoix, Mich., is an occasional contributor in the "Views of the People's" column of the Indianapolis Star. In today's issue of the Star he has an article which is a plea for "free thought and free speech," and an answer to two writers in the same column. The principal thought of the article is "free thought and free speech are coming in greater demand as the world grows old and that the man who is free to think, free to talk and free to vote is the highest type of American manhood; and the man who will not or cannot see but one side of questions, principles and conditions of today is the same as he who does not see or think at all; is a slave in the hands of designing men, and will eventually become a serf, thereby making our declaration of independence a farce and every drop of blood that has been shed in defense of it a curse."

Royal Lover Departs. Washington, March 21.—After a flying visit of three days to Washington, the Duke of the Abruzzi left as unceremoniously and as mysteriously as he came to the city. It is said he will depart from New York today enroute to Italy, sailing probably by the Cunard liner Lusitania with his valet. His leave of absence from command of the warship Regina Elena has expired, and he is returning home to again assume charge of the vessel. Whether an engagement between the duke and Miss Katherine Elkins, the daughter of Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia, has resulted from the royal visitor's trip to America, no one at the embassy is willing to say. Rome rumor has it that the duke is returning home to gain the king's consent to such a marriage.

Secretary Wilson Arraigned. Port Huron, Mich., March 21.—Wm. L. Wilson, supreme secretary of the United Home Protectors' fraternity, was arraigned yesterday afternoon on the charge of embezzling $75,000 of the fraternity's funds. He refused to plead and Justice Benedict directed that a plea of not guilty be entered. He will have a preliminary hearing March 24.

An Idyl of the South The Sweetest Girl in Dixie

CHAPTER XVIII.

KINROSS had time to become very restless while he waited that night in the haunted room before Eunice made her appearance. He was rather apprehensive lest the curiosity of some of the household about this room might lead to his being discovered there alone with the girl. For her sake he would greatly dislike the appearance of it.

It was quite 10 o'clock before he heard her light step in the long hall outside the room.

When at last she stood before him he was held spellbound for an instant by the radiance of her face. Warmth, color, happiness, took the place of the pale, passive, remote aspect she ordinarily wore. Her whole person seemed to breathe her eagerness to hear the story he had to tell her. At least so he interpreted it.

He placed a chair for her, the only one in the room, and sat down himself on the foot of the bed.

He felt rather at a loss as to how he should deal with her. It was hard to have to disappoint the bright expectation of that pretty young face.

"Would it mean anything to you, Eunice," he began, surprised at himself to note how his voice instinctively softened when he spoke to her as one would naturally modify one's tones in speaking to a timid, sensitive child, "to be told you were born of very good blood?"

"Why should it not?"

"But in your isolation from the world can you possibly have learned the significance of such a fact?"

"It means, doesn't it, that my parents were people of gentle and noble minds?"

"Well," he smiled, "we do not always attach just that meaning to it. Some very degenerate families are proud of their good blood."

"Meaning merely their inherited rank? Yes, I know," she nodded. "But—"

"The rank is but the guinea's stamp, A man's a man for all that."

"I should like to know that there is no taint of dishonor in my blood."

"You have the comforting knowledge. Your father was a New York lawyer of high standing and stainless reputation."

Her face glowed at his words. "I have a pride in it," she answered him.

"You may well have. Now," he went on, "as to the current story about this room and its connection with you. I will tell you what it is."

He told her then nearly all that he knew, withholding only her prospects of great wealth and the source of his knowledge of her. If she knew of the existence of the "confession" he had found she would have a right to see it. He did not wish her to see it until he had ascertained what the probability was that her aunt would recognize her claims.

Eunice heard him with breathless attention. But the break in the continuity of his story bewildered her. "But how, then, did you come to learn what you say is unknown to all others—that this man and woman who brought me here were not my parents and that I am the daughter of a New York lawyer, from whom they stole me away from my home?"

"I can't tell you that tonight, Eunice, how I came by my knowledge. It is better that I do not just yet. Trust me and have patience."

She looked at him, the brightness of her face unclouded by his denial, but she did not reply.

"You do trust me?"

"Why should I not?" she asked, with naive surprise.

"In fact," he responded, "I don't know just why you should. You don't know anything about me."

"I know everything about you," sprang from her, "and nothing."

"Now," he protested, "that sounds as subtle as though it came from Georgiana. What does it mean?"

"With my heart I know you. With my head I don't understand you at all."

"You pay me the highest compliment if your unsullied heart teaches you an instinctive trust of me. With your head you don't understand me?" he questioned her curiously.

"I don't understand why, if you love Miss Ellery, you should go out of your way to avoid her, even disguising yourself and feigning unconsciousness."

Her simplicity afforded him the liveliest entertainment.

love people who are not restful?"

"I don't always love to be with them."

"Am I restful?"

She asked it with her look and tone of wistfulness which he was learning to watch for in talking to her.

"If I told you you were, what inference would you draw? You are such an alarmingly logical little person one has to be wary or be trapped into all sorts of admissions one wouldn't dream of making."

"Is it a commendation to be told you are 'restful'? I would suppose that people who count for something in our lives do not rest us. They stir us."

She spoke with evident feeling. Surely, surely, she was not thinking of Abe! He would not believe it.

"And we like to be stirred, don't we?" he acquiesced. "That's what we live for—to experience moments or hours of thrilling sensations."

"Does Miss Ellery make you experience those?"

"Those?"

"Moments or hours of thrilling sensations?"

His shoulders shook with soundless laughter. But he pulled himself together. "I have reason to believe she would if she could."

He read in her open countenance that he spoke in enigmas. But he did not offer to explain. He vaguely wondered why she seemed to want to talk of Miss Ellery with her own exciting story so freshly put to her.

He watched her without speaking, as, looking away from him, she toyed thoughtfully with her apron strings. Presently she drew a long breath, lifted her hand to push a strand of hair from her forehead and again rested her eyes upon his face.

"I don't even know my own name!" she said. "Even that I must learn from you. What is it?"

"I understand you have always been called Eunice Morningstar?"

"Yes."

"Will you have patience with me? I don't want to tell you even that just yet."

"Will it be long before you tell me?"

"I will tell you everything just as soon as I possibly can. I know it must be maddening to you to be put off like this, but it is out of consideration for you (for no other reason) that I want to postpone telling you some things."

"I will wait."

"Thank you—for your trust in me."

"So many things puzzle me, though."

"Necessarily!"

"I can't see why Mr. and Mrs. Morningstar have thought it necessary to keep the story of this room from me. How could it have harmed them to let me know?"

"They have kept it from you because there was one phase of it which, from their standpoint, it was very necessary that you should not know. It was for fear that you should hear this from the neighbors that they have always kept you isolated. Listen to me, Eunice! When that woman died the sum of $4,000 was found pinned to your dress; it was of course manifestly to pay those who should take care of you. The Morningstars kept this fact from you, making believe you owed them a great debt for their charity toward you."

Eunice gazed at him in amazement, an intensified excitement in her eyes.

"I am not, then, under the least obligation to them?" she said breathlessly. "It is this, then, which Abe has meant by his many insinuations that if I knew a certain thing he knew I would defy his parents. I never dreamed of anything like this. Then I am free—free and not a slave!"

"So then," he abruptly asked, unable to repress the question that sprang to his lips, "you will defy them and marry Abe? It has been your supposed obligation to them that has held you back from doing what they disapproved of?"

She looked at him, an expression in her eyes that was inexplicable to him. She did not answer him. Suddenly her lashes drooped, and to his consternation he saw two great tears roll over her face. Her relation with Abe was actually a matter of deep feeling. It was, to be sure, not more impossible than everything else about her. There might be plenty of excuse for her being in love with Abe in view of her lifelong environment, but he felt an intolerance, almost a disgust, with it that rather dampened his enthusiasm in championing her cause. She didn't seem worth while if she were capable of that. At the same time her distress gave him an impulse to go to her, child that she was, take out his handkerchief and wipe away her tears. Being kind to her was a luxurious pleasure, she was so grateful for kindness. But he felt the need of restraining himself. He abruptly asked her a question.

"Why do you bear it so meekly when Mrs. Morningstar browbeats and insults you before other people too? Why do you allow her to?"

She had sunk back in her chair limply. The warmth and color had all gone from her. She looked up at him, but the fire had died out of her eyes.

"Why should I mind it? It is to me as a hen's cackle."

Threatened Flood Subsides.
Pittsburg, March 21.—Except for the cleaning-up process Pittsburg is through with its second flood this spring. Sudden change to colder weather at the headwaters of the rivers and in the Pittsburg district froze up the small streams and stopped the torrents that were pouring into the lower Allegheny and lower Monongahela rivers, threatening to exceed the overflow of last month and to closely approach the stake of last March. Many manufacturing plants were shut down, but the flood having passed as suddenly as it came, did not inflict great damage upon industrial interests.

Fifty-Nine Convicted.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Sweetest Girl in Dixie" at the Grand theatre Wednesday, March 25th. "An appreciative audience greeted the 'Sweetest Girl in Dixie' company last evening at the Grand Opera House. The play is full of Southern atmosphere. It deals with the folly of a father who mortgages his home and places himself and daughter in danger of being turned out into the world, alone and with out money. As a whole, the play is pleasing and was well received by the audience. At times the gallery grew wildly enthusiastic—San Antonio Daily Express.

A Significant Demonstration.
London, March 21.—The announcement that the United States has accepted the invitation of the Japanese government for the Atlantic battleship fleet to visit Japan excites the highest interest here, first as putting an end to the friction and war talk, and second as one of the most significant naval demonstrations of modern times.

Gratification in Japan.
Tokio, March 21.—The American government's acceptance of Japan's official invitation to the battleship fleet to visit Japanese ports was received with every evidence of gratification when communicated to the foreign office and the naval department.

FAILED TO RALLY

Bishop Fowler Died Following a Surgical Operation.

New York, March 21.—The Rev. Charles H. Fowler, bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, is dead at his home here, 338 West 72d street. Death resulted from the bishop's failure to rally after an operation for diabetes. The widow and his son, Carl Fowler, a lawyer of this city, were with him when the end came. Funeral services will be held at the home and at the Madison Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Monday afternoon. Among those who will take part are Bishops Burt, Moore, Goodsell, Mallalu and Wilson, and Chancellor Day of Syracuse university. Dr. Wallace McMillen will direct the service at the church. Interment will be in Woodlawn cemetery.

Mrs. Daniel Brown continues about the same at her home in North Main street.

DESERT WARFARE

Germans Leaving Serious
Trouble In the Hottentot
Country.

A SANGUINARY CONFLICT

After Forced Marches Across Waterless Desert Expeditionary Force Comes Up With the Enemy.

In the Battle That Followed Both Sides Lost Heavily, German
Leader Being Slain.

Berlin, March 20.—The government publishes a cablegram from South Africa reporting a battle between the German expeditionary forces and a body of Hottentots in the Kalmhar desert. The German troops had been sent out to find Simon Koppers, the last of the Hottentot chiefs, who is still hostile. The engagement was a very severe one. The enemy lost fifty-eight killed. Seven men and several women were captured, but Koppers escaped. The German losses also were heavy. Captain Von Erckert, commander of the expeditionary force, Lieutenant Ebinger and twelve privates being killed and seventeen wounded, of whom nine were seriously hurt.

The German force left Cochos on March 6, 430 strong, with four machine guns and 700 camels. They made forced marches into the waterless desert for four days before stopping long enough to cook a fresh supply of food. The only water found was a dirty pool, which was insufficient to quench the thirst of the camels. Captain Erckert finally located the Hottentot camp on March 15. He began the attack next morning at daybreak, and soon there was fierce fighting all along the line. The German commander fell in the first onslaught and the second officer in command took charge of the expeditionary force, which drove the Hottentots from one position to another until finally they broke and fled in all directions.

Chief Koppers's power has been badly weakened by this defeat, but it will be necessary for the Germans to continue a vigilant watch over the approaches to the desert.

IN FRIENDSHIP'S NAME

The Big Sixteen Will Pay a Visit to the Mikado.

Washington, March 21.—The American battleship fleet is to visit Japan. The desire of the emperor of the island kingdom to play host to the big sixteen was laid before Secretary Root by Baron Takahira, the Japanese ambassador. The invitation, which was couched in most cordial terms, was made the subject of extended consideration by President Roosevelt and his entire cabinet. Secretary Root was directed to accept the invitation and the acceptance was laid before the Japanese ambassador. It is regarded in official circles here as more than likely that China will be next to bid for a look at the fleet, and that should this be the case the invitation would be accepted.

Secretary Metcalf and Admiral Pillsbury, chief of navigation, are arranging the details of the new itinerary. With the exception of China, it is believed to have been determined that all other invitations, should any be received, will be declined, for at best the fleet will not be able to reach the Atlantic seaboard before the first of next March.

The itinerary which seems to be the most direct includes stops at the Hawaiian Islands, Samoa, Melbourne, Sydney, Manila, Yokohama—should that be the port selected as the stopping place in Japan—possibly a Chinese port, back to the Philippines, and then home by way of the Suez canal.

Japan will have the ships a week, according to tentative plans. While the stops in foreign ports so far made have been on an average of ten days' duration, a part of that time was occupied in taking on coal. The acceptance of the Japanese invitation is regarded in official circles as of considerable importance in the way of a demonstration of the cordiality existing between the American and Japanese governments.

HELEN F. MEARS
An American Sculptor

"Her work is as strong as a man's, and has in addition, a subtle, intangible quality exceeding rare and spiritual," was the generous tribute paid by one sculptor genius, St. Gaudens, to his pupil, Miss Helen Farnsworth Mears.

At an age when most little girls are interested in dolls and the manufacture of mud-pies, the little fingers of this American sculptor were modeling in putty, in Oshkosh, Wis., her birth-place. Before she was nine, she had modeled an original head of Apollo, which was the wonder at the County Fair where it was exhibited. For a number of years subsequent to this, she exhibited annually a model of Hope, Repentance, or some other allegorical figure, far beyond what one could conceive the imagination of a child would grasp.

While at the Normal College, her modeling at home under the kindly inspiration and criticism of her father, filled her mind and heart far more than her regular studies. In 1893, the Milwaukee Women's Club offered a prize of $500 for the best work of art by a Wisconsin woman to be exhibited at the World's Fair in Chicago. Miss Mears' heroic symbolic figure of "Wisconsin," which was later put in marble and placed in the rotunda of the State Capitol at Madison, captured the prize. This was a signal triumph for a girl whose entire professional art training up to that time had been only a six weeks' experience in the Art Institute in Chicago.

A year and a half of study under St. Gaudens in New York, followed by three years in the best ateliers of Paris under Puech, Collins, Merson, Charpentier, and other famous teachers, broadened her mind, increased her mastery of technique and gave surety and strength to her imagination and her treatment. After a brief stay under the artistic inspiration of Italian skies, Miss Mears was called by her old master St. Gaudens, to assist in his Paris studio, but soon after returned to America and started bravely on her own work in sculpture in New York.

Upon her ambitious "Fountain of Life," a large symbolic wall fountain, fourteen feet high and filled with life-size figures, Miss Mears put the best work of four years. It was exhibited at the St. Louis Fair, receiving a place of honor and was awarded a medal.

Her most successful statue is that of Francis E. Willard in Statuary Hall at the Capitol in Washington. It is more than a mere portrait; it is a soul interpretation, revealing the sweetness, strength, simplicity and serenity of the great philanthropist and educator. Among Miss Mears' latest works is an exquisite portrait of her mother, a portrait relief of the well-known essayist, Louise Collier Wilcox, and a bas-relief and also portrait bust of Edward A. MacDowell, the popular musician.

Says Reports Are Not Full.

Waterbury, Conn., March 21.—Congressman Lilley, who returned to this city last night from Washington for a two-days' rest, said in relation to his charges at Washington concerning the Electric Boat company, that "the public has only a partial knowledge of the proceedings before the investigation committee, because the press associations have reported them very inadequately. The omissions have been as important as the matter they have published to the country."

Sought Relief in Death.

Washington, March 21.—In a fit of despondency, Frank H. Hosford, a well-known newspaper correspondent and former reading clerk of the house of representatives, committed suicide with a knife. Eight wounds were inflicted in the neck and throat and several in the chest. Mr. Hosford had been in ill health for nearly a year, and lately told members of his family that he despaired of ever getting well.

Banker's Troubles Growing.

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 21.—A second charge has been preferred against Frank W. Lille, president of the defunct City bank of Dowagiac, Mich., who was arrested Thursday night on the charge of embezzling funds of the Order of Elks to the amount of $1,500. The charge is receiving deposits in his bank after the bank was insolvent.

Bond for $1,500,000 Filed.

South Bend, Ind., March 21.—Joseph D. Oliver, as executor of the last will and testament of James Oliver, the millionaire plow manufacturer, has filed a bond calling for $1,500,000 in the circuit court.

NOTRE DAME LADY'S APPEAL.

All suffering sufferers of rheumatism, whether muscular or of the joints, sciatica, lumbago, backache, pains in the kidneys or neuralgia pains, to write to her for a home treatment which has repeatedly cured all of these tortures. She feels it her duty to send it to all sufferers FREE. You cure yourself at home as thousands will testify—no change of climate being necessary. This simple discovery banishes uric acid from the blood, loosens the stiffened joints, purges the blood, and brightens the eyes, giving elasticity and tone to the whole system. If the above interests you, for proof address Mrs. M. Summers, Box R, Notre Dame, Ind.

A Letter Of Interest

The following letter from Postmaster Ben. L. McFarlan is of interest to all our subscribers who receive their paper by mail:

Rushville, Ind. Jan. 9th, 1908.

To The Publishers of The Republican:

Your attention is called to the following changes in the Postal Laws effective April 1st, 1908.

Section 436, Paragraph 3.

A reasonable time will be allowed publishers to secure renewals of subscriptions, but unless subscriptions are expressly renewed after the term of which they are paid, within the following periods:

Dailies, within three months;
Semi-Weeklies, within nine months;

They shall not be counted in the legitimate list of subscribers and copies mailed on account thereof shall not be accepted for mailing at the second class rate of postage of one cent a pound, but may be mailed at the transient rate of one cent for each copy, prepaid by stamps affixed. The right of a publisher to extend credit for subscriptions is not denied or questioned, but his compliance or non-compliance with this regulation will be taken into consideration in determining whether the publication is entitled to transmission at the second-class postage rates.

Respectfully,

BEN L. MCFARLAN,
Postmaster.

To make a long story short the sum substance of the letter is "Pay Your Subscription in Advance."

This course is not a law of our own but of Uncle Sam's and there is no getting around it by us, if we want to send our papers through the mail.

On April first (time set by Uncle Sam) we will have to discontinue all papers that are not paid up to that time, (April 1st, 1908.)

We would ask that any subscriber whose red tag on the paper does not read "paid" or later, give this matter their immediate attention. Remember this is Uncle Sam's law,—not ours.

AMERICAN FIRE TRAPS

Collinwood Disaster No Surprise,
Says Government Expert.

FIRE DRILLS NOT ENOUGH.

Erection of Buildings Having Greatest Resistance to Conflagrations Needed, Says Richard L. Humphrey—Schools Two Stories in Height Favored.

In twenty-one of the principal cities of Europe the per capita loss from fires is 35 cents. In the United States the per capita losses from fires yearly exceeds $2.50. In Europe the chief effort in the construction of buildings is to put into them fire resisting materials. In the United States more thought and money are devoted to the establishment of costly fire departments.

These general statements are included in an interview recently made public at Washington by Richard L. Humphrey, engineer in charge of the structural material laboratories of the government, who has made a special study of fireproofing.

"The catastrophe at Collinwood, O., the other day," said Mr. Humphrey, "did not result from exceptional conditions, but conditions that are to be found in thousands of instances throughout the United States. The same or even worse fire traps prevail in every village and town and indeed in many of the large cities. Even where municipal laws are supposed to govern erection of such structures the conditions are often worse than in Collinwood. Such calamities as we have had the few months of this year do not come as a matter of surprise to any one versed on the subject. The only surprise is that these catastrophes do not occur more frequently throughout this great country."

"The newspapers are now filled with statements made by school officials, calling attention to the necessity of fire drills—that these fire drills will prevent the loss of life from fire. Necessary and excellent as they are in their place, nothing could be more fallacious than such a general proposition. What is needed, as has been repeatedly pointed out, is the erection of structures which have the greatest resistance to fire. From what I can learn, the fire drill at Collinwood had started, but the school building was such a flimsy tinder box that the fire traveled through the hallways and up the stairs faster than any possible fire drill. In such a building—and there are many of them—the fire will always win the race over the frantic children. Had the interior of the Collinwood school been reasonably fireproof the loss of life would have been very much less, and possibly no lives would have been lost."

"Laws should be enacted to prohibit the erection of anything except a structure of the highest fire resisting type, especially when it is to be used as a school, hospital, theater or other structure in which people assemble in large numbers, who in the event of a great fire, such as happened at Collinwood, would be to a certain extent helpless. In our hospitals and public schools it would appear unwise to erect structures of more than two stories in height. In such buildings, in addition to wide stairways, I would have one or two chutes or tubes leading from the top story to the ground. These would prove not only much safer than fire escapes, but also a much more rapid means of exit."

"The question of the height of buildings and the character of the interior structures is continually agitating public officials, but commercial interests appear to dominate, and buildings are erected that are known not to be the most safe for the purpose. This condition pertains as much to municipal structures as to any other class of buildings. It is a fact that the money available for schools, hospitals and other municipal structures is usually inadequate for the purpose, and the officials in charge, in order to keep within the appropriation, are forced to erect cheap, flimsy buildings that are not fireproof."

"While the relative fire resisting qualities of fireproof materials are not yet entirely established, it is a fact that these properties are sufficiently well known to permit the erection of reasonably fireproof structures. Yet in the face of all this buildings are continually being erected with materials known not to possess an adequate resistance to fire, and these buildings are a menace to the cities in which they are erected. The city of New York is full of fire traps, and it is a miracle that a great fire has not wiped out the greater part of the business district."

"The remedy for these conditions is not in elaborate systems for fighting fire or, say, elaborate fire drills, which may or may not be effectively carried out, but in the enactment of strict municipal laws compelling the erection of structures entirely fireproofed with materials of the highest quality and especially in the prevention of the erection of flimsy structures where women and children gather in large numbers—as, for example, schools, theaters, hospitals and similar buildings."

"It is a matter of record, borne out by insurance statistics, that the United States spends enormous sums of money in providing equipments for fighting fires, while foreign countries spend their money in building structures which offer the greatest resistance to fire."

Concrete for building purposes has been demonstrated to be one of the very best materials for fireproofing purposes, and its increased use will add materially to the public safety."

"Come In Out of the Wet."

Silly Billy wants a kiss, sitting in the rain.
Why should she deny him this? Answer's very plain:
Can the fire of love be warm (heed my language—mark!)
With the wetness of the storm putting out the spark?
Some folks never know enough to escape the wet;
Sit around and say, "It's tough!"—doomed to vain regret.
Store is full and stock is fine, still nobody buys.
Come inside and cease to pine. Secret: ADVERTISE!
